Under Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 27 and this Court's Rule 27.5, Appellants, the State of Louisiana and Rosalie Markezich, respectfully move the Court to expedite oral argument in this appeal. Appellants file this motion simultaneously with their opening brief on June 15, 2026, one week before the deadline provided in the Court's briefing notice. See ECF 142. Any merits response brief from Appellees will be due July 15, 2026, and Intervenor-Appellees' brief will be due July 22, 2026. Appellants commit to filing their reply brief by July 29, 2026, within fourteen days of the filing of Appellees' brief and within 7 days of the filing of Intervenor-Appellees' brief. In accordance with this briefing schedule, Appellants request that the Court set this matter for oral argument the week of August 31 to September 3, 2026, or on the next available oral argument calendar date.

The need for expeditious review in this appeal arises from the irreparable harm the State faces every day that the challenged 2023 REMS remains in place. As both the district court and a motions panel of this Court have already determined, "Louisiana has shown it is suffering irreparable harm" because of the 2023 REMS. ECF.119-1 at 14. "[T]he 2023 REMS injures Louisiana by undermining its laws protecting unborn human life and also by causing it to spend Medicaid funds on emergency care for women harmed by mifepristone.” Id. It is therefore of the utmost importance to the State that this Court reach the merits of this appeal expeditiously, to abate the harms the State continues to suffer on a daily basis. To most effectively protect its rights and ensure expeditious review of these important issues, Appellants therefore seek an expedited schedule from this Court.

Accordingly, Appellants respectfully request that the Court expedite the argument in this appeal by setting oral argument for the week of August 31 to September 3, 2026, or on the next available oral argument calendar. Appellees have represented that they oppose this motion and will file a response. Intervenor-Appellees Danco and GenBioPro have reserved taking a position on the relief requested until the motion has been filed.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: June 15, 2026
